

Open Source

Joomla! is open source. Joomla! is made by a community for a community. It's made and maintained by volunteers, so we can offer it without charge. We only ask that you give back by posting your thoughts, helping maintain, or promoting Joomla!

Forums

Let your community talk. Free forum add-ons are available. A forum will let members of your community speak their mind, and present new ideas to your community.

Other Add-on's

There are over 2,000 other add-on's for your site. Want to sell items to raise funds for your community? No problem! Just add a storefront plug in. Want to share picture of your community? Just add a gallery plug in. With Joomla!, you can add virtually any feature to your site.

Easy to Use

That's right, Joomla! is easy to use. Any user can navigate through your site with ease. Plus, administration is a snap! The Joomla! administration section of your site is self explanatory, and requires minimal background knowledge.

User Support

Have question? Have a problem? No problem, on the Joomla! web site there is a large help section, and there's also a forum with a community of members that are always happy to help you find a solution.

User Control

With Joomla!, you can control who sees what sections of your site. This is done simply by issuing members of your community user names and passwords. You can also make other administrators, or other users who can edit the site.

Customizable

Make Joomla! fit your community's style. You have the ability to change almost every aspect of the functionality, behavior, and look of your site. There are tons of free templates, and there is a good chance that there's one that you will like!

Unite Your Community

By using Joomla!, your site will become a regular meeting place. It will be where members from your community will come to find out about events, read news, learn about volunteer opportunities, meet other members of the community, and more!

Is that all?

This brochure is just beginning to describe all that Joomla! can do for your community. With lots of features built in, and lots you can add, the possibilities are endless! So go ahead, try out Joomla!, what do you have to lose?
