Page Impression Statistics

Description:

The Page Impression Statistics screen is a display representation of the number of unique hits that have been made on all Content Items, including Static Content Items. This is based solely on the number of times the main page of a Content Item is viewed and does not count views of an Item Intro on the Front Page.

Columns:

#: This column shows the ranking order, of the Items, in descending order.

Title: This column shows the name of the Content Item/Static Content Item as it appears at the top of the display page when viewed. Also shown, in parenthesis, is the date and time of creation of the Item.

Page Impressions: This column displays the number of unique hits (based on the browser agent

NOTE:

There are no editable fields in this display screen.
